A REVOLUTION IN CHASSIS ENGINEERING

BUILT-IN QUALITY

The DynoMax® 10TDX's massive twin 10" X 3" X ¼" tubular stringers provide chassis rigidity beyond that of any traditional semi-monocoque chassis currently available.

All of the necessary coach strength is built into the chassis itself rather than placing those stresses on the coach body. The result is longer-lasting structural integrity, reduced squeaks and rattles and improved handling from concentrating

structural weight into the chassis itself, closer to the road.

The Neway® Independent Front Suspension

Provides the smoothest ride and most responsive handling available, even on rough or

uneven surfaces.

NEWAY IFS

UNI-CAGE®

On every National RV, a welded tubular steel framework runs through all of the coach body components, enveloping the coach in a sturdy cage of steel—the Uni-Cage®.

The beefy tubular engine cage ensures that the Cummins® ISL's brutish 1,200 lb.-ft. of torque are applied to the road, not the chassis.

Unobstructed storage bays are a hallmark of all DynoMax® chassis and the 10TDX provides all of its features and advancements without compromising storage space.

HWH® two-axis hydraulic slide actuators are the pinnacle of slide-out technology, providing smooth, trouble free operation and true flat-floor livability.
